

Telos Nx12 Sets New Standards with an Attractive Offer

November 19, 2009, Cleveland Ohio, USA

Telos Systems is offering an attractive deal with the purchase of the Nx12 Studio Talkshow System. Buy an Nx12 and Desktop Director, get a second Desktop Director and Assistant Producer Call Screener Software FREE.

The Nx12 gives you the latest hybrid technology and audio processing by Omnia. With 12 lines at your disposal, four integrated advanced digital hybrids, special echo cancellation, and an exclusive adaptive function to reduce feedback, you'll experience the cleanest, most consistent call quality ever.

The Desktop Director is the perfect companion for the Nx12. With control of 12 lines at your fingertips, talent and producers benefit from unique Telos features such as our exclusive Status Symbols™ visual call management icons which clearly show line and caller status.

The Nx12 makes call management even easier by supporting call screener software such as Telos' Assistant Producer. Assistant Producer completes any Telos multi-line Talkshow System with easy-to-use client / server call screening software. It handles a variety of studio environments, and enables producers to provide talent with information on each caller, the ability to send messages, and control the status of multiple telephone lines.

This offer ends January 1, 2010. Contact your authorized Telos dealer for details (www.Telos-Systems.com/dealer/) on how to get your second Desktop Director AND Assistant Producer Call Screener Software for FREE with the purchase of an Nx12 and Desktop Director.
